The new postoffice building was this morning thrown open to the public and everyone had a new experience in opening their combination boxes. The clerks were not used to the new arrangement and the delivery of the mail was necessarily slow this morning; everything will, however, be moving along smoothly in a few days, and the public should bear with the postmaster.

B. F. Graham's new stock is now coming in all the time, will have a complete line of furnishing goods in this month.

Mrs. Crosey, the proprietress of the Bisbee Grill room, is prepared to furnish the people of Bisbee tomorrow with a dinner that will suit the taste of all. She has ordered delicacies from the east and west, and with the best that the Bisbee market affords, will have a bill of fare that any hotel or restaurant on the Pacific coast may well be proud. Take your family to the Grill room tomorrow and give them a first-class treat.

J. W. Baggett, of Oak Grove, Fla., had an attack of the measles, nearly three years ago, and the disease left him with very severe pains in the chest. "I thought I would die," he writes; "but to my great joy, I was saved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm." Pains in the chest nearly always indicate the approach of pneumonia, and by promptly applying this liniment on a flannel cloth, which should be bound on the chest, an attack of pneumonia may be prevented. It is always prompt and effective. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by the Bisbee Drug Store.

The Census.

In response to the call issued in THE OMA, quite a number of representative democrats assembled at the school house last evening. S. T. Wylie was elected chairman of the meeting and B. J. O'Reilly secretary. The secretary then read the call, stating the object of the meeting being to select names to be voted for at the primaries for delegates to the county convention.

A motion was made and carried that the census only name twenty men and that the democratic voters be allowed the privilege of scratching any name they desired and substituting another. A motion was also made and carried that the polls on the day of the primaries be open from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m.

The following is the list of citizens selected by the caucus:
S. T. Wylie, W. Goodrich,
F. A. Sweet, J. A. Irwin,
F. M. McKay, J. B. Angus,
B. G. Perrin, J. W. Perrin,
I. W. Wallace, H. R. Hanniger,
J. S. Taylor, F. C. Garrison,
A. T. Sowell, Hugh Conlon,
B. J. O'Reilly, A. W. Howe,
C. E. Cummings, M. C. Benton,
L. C. Shattuck, Will Pritchett.

Admits Her Guilt.

The much-talked-of Conyers murder case has come to a somewhat startling close. From S. K. Williams, who returned yesterday from Tombstone, an OMA reporter learns that yesterday morning E. W. Land, attorney for Mrs. Francis Conyers, made a statement to the court in which he said that his client was willing to plead guilty to man slaughter. By entering this plea the defendant admits her guilt in killing her own husband.

From the day of the killing she has protested her innocence and stoutly declared that her husband's death was due to an accident. But through the efficient work of Sheriff White and his deputies evidence sufficient to convict has been collected against her, and at last she has realized her situation. What disposition the court will make in the matter is at present difficult to foretell. An indictment for murder has been found against her, and she is willing to plead guilty to manslaughter. At all events the law will take its course. The termination of the case, as it is, adds much to the record of our excellent sheriff, Scott White; through his efforts, and his alone, has the case been brought to the public and the conviction secured.

Geo. W. Webb, J. L. Hathaway and J. J. Chatham, U. S. customs inspectors, returned Tuesday night from Bisbee where they have been doing some good work capturing smugglers. On the 10th of the month Inspectors Webb and Chatham captured Antonio Murietta, an old time smuggler, with forty-two gallons of mescal, three barrels and firearms. The prisoner was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500, in default of bond he went to jail. On the 15th Mr. Webb and J. L. Hathaway captured a horse, saddle and bridle and six shooter, but the man escaped. The boys have made many captures during the last three months. Headed by Geo. W. Webb, they have seized 120 gallons of contraband mescal during this time and have sent to jail two smugglers and killed one. Where the smuggler was killed some ago Mr. Webb found a big knife the other day that was not seen at the time of the killing.—Vidette.

Excursion Notes.

Everything indicates that the coming Texas State Fair will be the greatest in the history of the state. The attractions will be more extensive in variety and greater in magnetic power than in any previous year.

To meet the general desire of residents in the territory tributary to El Paso to visit Dallas at this time, the popular Texas and Pacific has put in the remarkably low rate of $5 from El Paso to Dallas and return, good only on Thursday, Oct. 6, and Thursday, Oct. 13 returning on the Monday following date of sale. This will give an opportunity of spending the entire day Saturday at the fair and enjoying the sights of the city on Sunday.

Tickets will also be on sale daily during the continuance of the fair at $24 for the round trip. These tickets will be placed on sale Sept. 29, the final return limit being Oct. 16, thus allowing time for quite an extended visit with friends or relatives in Central and Eastern Texas.

For further information or tickets call on B. F. Darbyshire, No. 117 El Paso St., El Paso, Texas.

FOR SALE—A brand new upright piano, cash down or installment plan. For further particulars, apply at this office.

Chas. Kinney and wife returned this morning from Tombstone, where they have been for a week.

The latest advices from Whipple barracks, state that the troops will leave over the northern route.

J. Coine, U. S. postoffice inspector arrived in our city yesterday and remained over today, taking in the sights of the lower workings of the mines this morning. He left this evening on his official tour.

Steve Miller has returned from his eastern visit. While in New York he saw quite a number of the Rough Riders, among whom was Dave Hughes. Dave is looking like a little bird streak from his forehead to the back of his head. This was made by a Minnie bullet and it was a close shave for Dave that it was not an inch or so lower.

The inhabitants of Bisbee were aroused from their peaceful slumbers last night about 1:15 by the vigorous ringing of the fire bell and the shouting of the many whistles. The bright light arising from the side of Cuichahua hill told the tale of fire. The fire lads were soon willingly at work and soon the fire was under control. The fire started in a row of small frame buildings just in the rear of the company's stables. Three small buildings were consumed with their contents. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin and a son of the land of manyana has been placed under arrest, charged with the offense. The stillness of the night was a great aid in subduing the flames, for, had the wind been blowing the loss would have been very much greater.

A Horrible Condition.

An OMA reporter had a peculiar experience this morning, and one which will dwell with him for a considerable time. While we take no stock in the uncanny and are not susceptible to superstition, we are open to conviction. While conversing with Senator Packard and Don Lewis Williams as to needed legislative measures in regard to Bisbee in particular and the territory in general, Don suggested that a visit to the alley parallel Main street would reveal some things never before seen in a camp of 6,000 inhabitants. Always on the alert to investigate and learn, we visited the section referred to, and were surprised at the optical delusions of facts which which appeared before us. The alley is breaking in filth, to view which one will lose his breath or go loaded down with disinfectants; if you can believe your eyes, skeletons stalk abroad and your progress is checked by the innocent and helpless screaming of the children. The alley is a filthy place in the territory, and what are you going to do about it? There is a remedy, and only one; that is when the legislature convenes Bisbee should become a municipal corporation with power to remedy such evils as threaten her very existence. True, the Copper Queen company has put into vague sanitary regulations which apply only to the healthfulness of its employees, but were the town incorporated many disasters could be avoided; we would have one of the sanitary regulations of the city would work as a unit. While the company uses all the artifices at its command to protect its employees, the precaution is wasted if adjacent properties are made the hot bed for contagion. None know this better than those who suffer. The time is ripe for incorporation; it needs little agitation. Let us instruct our representatives to the legislature to do this for Bisbee.

Mrs. Jas. Hileman is expected home tomorrow from a month's visit to her old home in Pennsylvania.

Jos. Lippert returned today from a short visit to Tombstone.

P. A. Denartini, the merchant prince of Fairbank, was a welcome visitor to our city today.

Miss Nellie Hughes is expected home soon from her California visit.

Bisbee will have three conventions held within her limits during the first twelve days of October.

Geo. Wills is expected home Sunday from California, where he has been for several weeks on account of his health.

It begins to look as if our rainy season had ended. We have not had a shower for nearly two weeks.

The Solomonville Bulletin says: "What Barnes got in Prescott?" will now take the place of "what Pete Kitchen got in Sonora." Let's give Pete a rest.

Mrs. W. Shertluff, of Phoenix, was an arrival on the train this morning and will remain here for some time visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Maxwell.

Mrs. Andrew Yeager and children came in this morning from the Huachuclas and will remain all winter, in order that the children may attend school.

A lively scrap occurred last evening in one of our up town restaurants. A caster and cups and saucers flew through the air in conglomeration confusion for a few moments, but no one was hurt.

The reported death of J. M. Sparks of Globe, who was recently married to Miss Kennedy, is without foundation. A cousin of Mr. Sparks, named J. A. Sparks, died, which led to the above rumor.

H. Meade, the well known California cattle buyer, and of the firm of Mead & Short, who own extensive ranges in Sonora, arrived this morning from California, and will leave shortly for his ranch in Sonora.

The narrow gauge engine that is to be used in hauling ore from the mines to the smelter at Nacozari, was unloaded today at the A. and S. E. roundhouse. The engine weighs about seven teen tons. The machinists will commence work taking it apart so that it can be hauled on the freight teams to Nacozari.

R. W. Wood, the former Tombstone Barker and who will be remembered by his many friends here, has accepted the nomination on the fusion ticket in Los Angeles county for tax collector. The democrats, populists and silver republicans have put the ticket in the field. Mr. Wood is a strong silver republican, and his friends in Cochise county wish him success at the polls.

Wm. Wardman, Leonard Alverson and Walter Hoffman were convicted at Las Cruces, New Mexico, yesterday in the United States court. This ends another chapter in their career, which commenced with robbing the postoffice at Stein's Pass, December 9, 1897, and an attempt to hold up the regular S. P. passenger train, their comrades, El Callen, being killed. A strong posse of deputy United States marshals took their trail early next morning and followed the outlaws to their rendezvous in the south end of the Chiricahua mountains, where they were arrested. J. N. Thatcher and Marshal Fowler, of New Mexico, are entitled to great credit for their energy in this case. With United States District Attorney Callers and Frank Cox, the prosecution was in good hands.

Jas. Schmet, one of Teddy's Terrors, belonging to a Texas company, is in our city. Mr. Schmet came here in search of his bride, who was enticed from her home in San Antonio, Texas, by a fellow rough rider with the story that Mr. Schmet was sick with fever at this place. This event happened while Schmet was at Wyett's Point being mustered out, having been married only a week before while on a furlough. Mr. Schmet is almost crazed with grief for the loss of his bride-wife, and is certain that she is being held from him and not given a chance to notify anyone. He received a dispatch from the young lady's brother yesterday, who is also hunting her, stating that he had heard of them at Marshall, Texas. Mr. Schmet will remain here until he receives further news before making any more plans. Mr. Schmet was with the Rough Riders at Santiago and is acquainted with many of the Bisbee boys. He states that Kier distinguished himself at the attack on San Juan hill by beating down several Spaniards with the butt of his gun while they were trying to fire a cannon at the advancing Americans. Kier, he states was the only one in the front line of the advancing Rough Riders who was not killed. Schmet also commends Lieut. Wilson for his bravery.
